

Sharae Stackhouse – BIO

Sharae Stackhouse is a passionate and committed follower of Christ. She has spent several years ministering to the people of God and has found much purpose and joy in children’s ministry. She is devoted to playing a part in seeing the next generation reach their full potential – spiritually, emotionally, and educationally. Sharae has served as an associate minister; co-led a youth ministry; and taught Sunday School and Bible Study to children and adults alike.

Sharae has 20 years of communication and marketing experience, in both the nonprofit and public sectors. She earned a Bachelor’s degree in English, with a minor in African American Studies from Valdosta State University. Sharae later earned her Master’s degree in Corporate Communication from Baruch College, graduating with honors. She currently works as a regional marketer with Willis Towers Watson, a leading global advisory, broking, and solutions company. Sharae is also a member of Free Chapel in Suwanee, where she serves on the altar team and as a greeter. She is an avid reader and enjoys traveling. Sharae is very devoted to her family and friends, and holds a special place in her heart

for all of her nieces, nephews, and God children.