

Ingrid Thomas – BIO

Personal Finance Instructor

“Ingrid is married to her husband John and have two children, Iran 23, and John 12. She accepted Jesus as her Lord and savior in 2006. As a seasoned business professional, she has built up her skills in finance, entrepreneurship, sales, and public speaking. She studied Actuarial Science, specializing in Financial Risks, working for the National Mexican Banking and Securities Commission. While balancing her life around God, family, and career, Ingrid made an incursion as an entrepreneur in the pharmaceutical and coffee industry. Ingrid moved to the United States in 2008 to continue her career as an Independent Sales Director, coaching Latino women to undertake home-based businesses. In 2012, she attended the 13-week Dave Ramsey’s Financial Peace University (FPU) class and integrated the system in her family’s finances. She and her husband were able to pay $26,000 in debt. Ingrid’s spirit to contribute to the success of other families led her to take a Master Coaching at Dave Ramsey's facility. As a result, she facilitated a 9-week class to 15 families in her former church and since then volunteers at her current church NorthStar Church in Kennesaw, GA as a financial coach. Currently she works for Peach Tree Commercial Capital (Private Money Lender in Atlanta, GA), helping business owners to create an effective financing strategy to maximize their operations and profits. Ingrid was born and raised in Mexico City, always remembering her Mexican-Dominican heritage. She is an avid marathon runner and has a passion for sharing the gospel."
